

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

This invention, a stock mounted ammunition holder, when used by hunters and law enforcement is designed to address the problem of accidental loss of ammunition from the carrier.

The problem is that past designs did not have a provision to prevent the rim of the ammunition from moving up, down or side ways. This ammunition holder is deigned to significantly lessen the possibly of loss of ammo.